The first thing I noticed when I stepped out of the car was the cold. It was a sharp contrast to the warm blanket I had been sitting under.
I shivered as I walked towards the entrance.
The door was open, and a bright light shined out. I hesitated for a moment before stepping inside. The air was warm and smelled like fresh bread. A woman in a white coat smiled at me and said, "Welcome. Please follow me." She led me to a table where a man in a white coat was sitting. He looked up at me and said, "Hello. I'm Dr. Smith.
You must be the new patient. Please sit down.
I'll get you some water." He stood up and went to the counter. I looked at the woman and said, "Thank you." She nodded and said, "Please wait here. Dr. Smith will be with you in a moment." I sat down and looked at the man who was sitting at the table. He was looking at me and smiling.
I felt a little nervous, but I smiled back at him. He stood up and said, "Please follow me.
I'll show you to the examination room." He led me to a room with a table and a chair.
He said, "Please sit down. I'll get you some water." He went to the counter and got a glass of water. He brought it to me and said, "Here you are. Please drink it." I took the glass and drank the water. He said, "Thank you. Please wait here. I'll be back in a moment." He went to the door and closed it. I sat down and looked at the man who was sitting at the table. He said, "Please sit down. I'll get you some water." He went to the counter and got a

said, "Here you are. Please drink it." I took the glass and drank the water. He said, "Thank you. Please wait here. I'll be
and closed it. I sat down and looked at the man who was sitting at the table. He was looking at me and smiling. I felt a little nervous, but I smiled back at him.

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the principles of the theory of the function of the mind. It is shown that the function of the mind is to represent the world as it is, and that this function is performed by the mind in a way which is independent of the nature of the world.
